Introducing the New Symphony Collection from Fabtex

October 29, 2007, Orange, CA Fabtex introduced its elegant new Symphony Collection at the HD Boutique Show in Miami. This unique collection charts the newest direction in post-white guestroom design. With its richly textured, woven 100% polyester fabrics, the collection makes it easy for designers and hotels to select from a wide array of fabrics that mix tastefully in almost limitless combinations.

“The Symphony Collection includes 4 different fabric groups which harmonize color, texture, and style to orchestrate the perfect guest room,” according to Brian Coughlin, Fabtex Vice President of Sales & Marketing. “This affordable collection enables hotels to create a room ensemble with a high-end look, while moving beyond a plain white bed that is a challenge and an expense to maintain.”

The fabrics are hospitality appropriate 100% polyester for maximum durability and easy cleaning, and have an amazingly soft hand for beautiful room design and guest comfort. All Symphony Collection fabrics are produced in 114 – 118 inch widths, for the best efficiency in hospitality applications. The ability to produce extra wide fabrics allows Fabtex to create seamless draperies, bed skirts and bed coverings, for improved guest room appearance while saving time and money in the fabrication process.

The collection received rave reviews at HD Boutique. “The industry is moving away from stark white bed coverings,” added Brian Coughlin. “The Symphony Collection allows properties to bring color into their guest rooms with different but coordinating textures, all in 100% polyester so they’re easy to care for and clean.”
